NATIONAL WIDE DRIVE AGAINST CRIME

TO BE MADE BY VIGILANTES IS SANCTIONED BY COOLIDGE

Manufacturers Indorse Restrictions of Arms—Recent Murders in Chicago Shock To Whole Country—American Vigilantes, Also Known As the National Crime Commission, Spurred To Action—Their Keynote Is, Rouse the State To Law Enforcement—Toting of Guns To Be Stopped.

such as those devoted to patriotism, labor, commerce and organizations of women citizens, by asking their aid in applying their influence within the states upon public opinion and public authority."

President Coolidge's pledge of co-operation was emphatic.

"Great increase of crimes of violence in our large cities demands most serious discussion on the best means of improving our machinery for the apprehension, conviction and punishment of offenders. But back of this should be the power of public opinion."

"It is one of the most powerful forces in the maintenance of law and order. Encourage the organization of groups in the various states not only to take up and make more effective the efforts of the criminal authorities to enforce the law. This is a work which deserves the support of all good citizens. May success attend your plan."

Doubly shocked by Wednesday's Chicago assassination, President Coolidge wished the new American Vigilantes, known as the National Crime commission, godspeed in their work.

That work is the mapping of a nation wide drive against crimes of violence, and it went forward all this day in half a dozen secret commissions under the leadership of Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; Richard Washburn Child, of New York, former ambassador; Newton D. Baker, of Ohio, former secretary of war; Charles E. Hughes, of New York; Herbert S. Hadley, former governor of Missouri; Senator Charles S. Deenen, of Illinois; Mrs. Richard Derby, of New York, daughter of the late Theodore Roosevelt; Franklin Roosevelt, Henry Barret Chamberlain, director of the Chicago crime commission; Charles S. Whitman, former governor of New York; General James A. Drain, of Washington, former commander of the American Legion; Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Trubee F. Davison, of New York and Governor Winant of New Hampshire.

Responding promptly to Coolidge's plea for action, former Ambassador Child said:

"Altho fact finding is an essential part of the necessary labor in combating a crime, it is unwise for firemen who receive an alarm to go into too long a conference to discuss the causes of fire."

The new vigilantes, who carried no nooses, but ran to firm chins and had an ominous gleam in their eyes, worked to such good purpose all day that they had brought over one of the great arms manufacturing companies to make a formal public pledge that it would support instead of balk, legislation for a "uniform law" in the several states to "control the sale, ownership and possession and use" of pistols and revolvers.

The company even went so far as to urge the vigilantes to enlist for suppression of a murderous traffic, support of the attorney general of the United States, the adjutant's general, the International association of Police Chiefs; the National Rifle association and the United States Revolver association.

Thas was the biggest single feature of a day which was heavy with intensive work and interrupted by frequent grim comment on the assassination of McSwiggan.

Its keynote was "Rouse the States for Law Enforcement!"

Arguments and plans were crystallized in an appeal to the American people to organize crime commissions in each state and to work with the National crime commission by arousing and enlisting the aid of these four agencies:

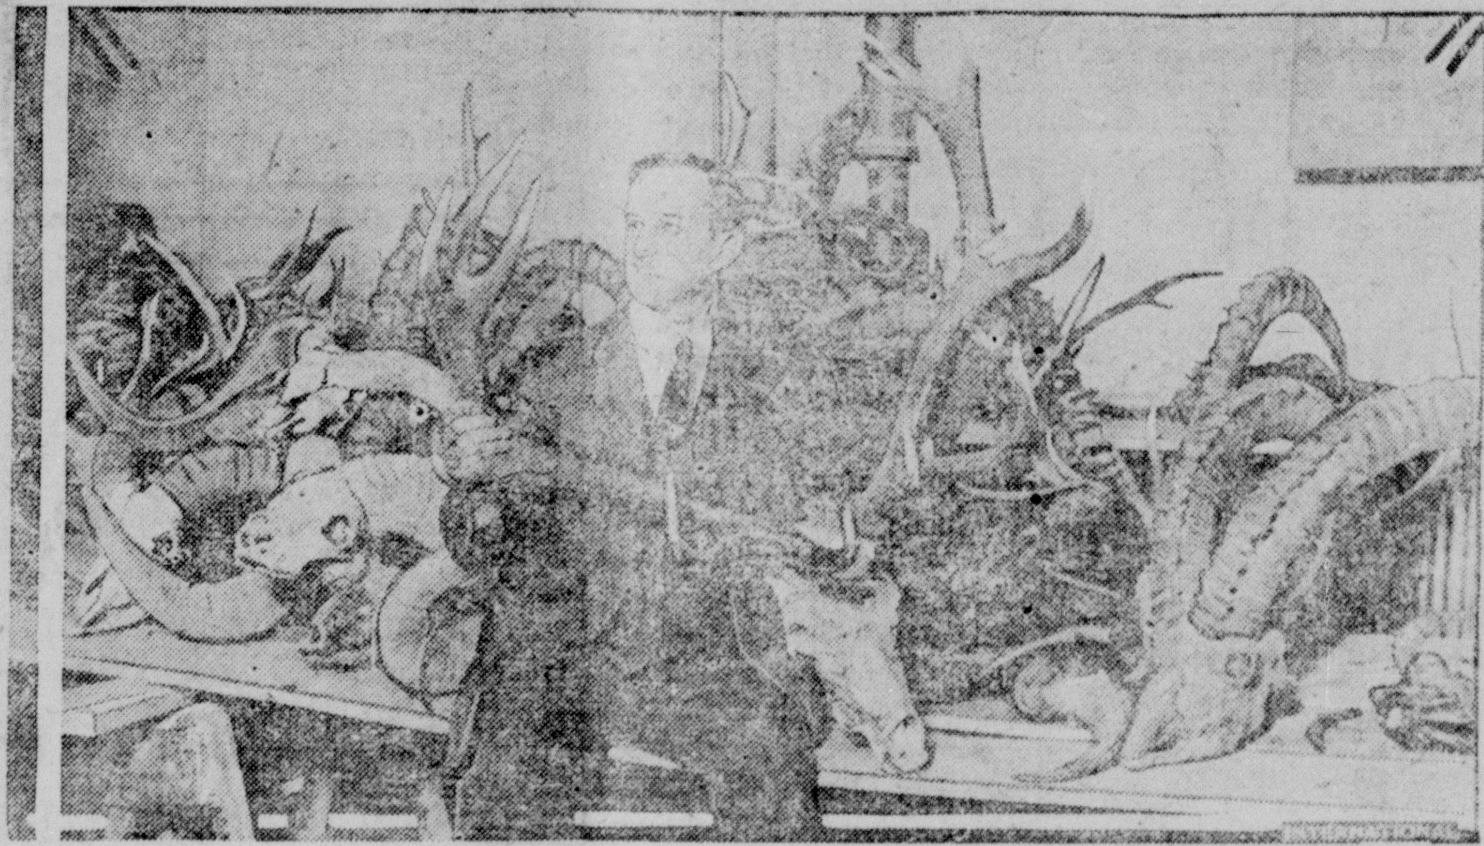

"1. Public opinion, by keeping the need to combat crime before the eyes of the dutiful citizens."

"2. Federal authority, by asking such approval and cooperation within the scope of federal influence and power."

"3. The governors of the states, by this willingness to take up with them the plans for state crime commissions."

"4. Organizations of national scope

MONOPOLY TO CONTROL RATE IS CHARGED

Against American Telephone and Telegraph Company in Federal Court.

Charges that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., exercises virtual monopoly in the United States were made Wednesday by David H. Crowley, special counsel for the city of Detroit in the rate hearings before a master in chancery in federal court.

Crowley based his assertions on testimony of Edward V. Cox, assistant vice president of the A. T. & T. concerning the agreement that exists between the telephone company and its subsidiaries governing purchase of supplies from the Western Electric company.

Cox testified the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., a subsidiary of the A. T. & T., saves $2,000,000 annually in purchasing the Western Electric Co., and on cross-examination said the Western Electric company increased prices 400 per cent to concerns not subsidiaries of the A. T. & T.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co., is petitioning the federal court to rescind lower rates on telephones in Detroit ordered recently by the state public service commission.

Testimony given by Cox was in connection with an investigation of the service rendered by the parent company in return for the four per cent paid by the subsidiaries to the A. T. & T. Thomas A. Green, assistant attorney general of Michigan, asked that Cox's testimony regarding savings in the purchase of supplies be thrown out because the Western Electric company was a monopoly and there could be no comparable market on which to estimate savings.

William S. Sayres Jr., federal master in chancery, reserved decision on admitting the testimony.

MRS. ARCHIE ROSE

Died at Her Home in Perry Township—Funeral Services Friday Forenoon.

Bertha Edith Rose, wife of Archie Rose, died at the home of her parents in Perry township, Wednesday night, April 28, at 10 o'clock, after a very prolonged illness.

She was the daughter of John and Mamie Heinis McCombs and was born in Gallia county, Ohio, on the 28th day of October, 1898, and was married to Archie Rose on the 24th day of December, 1919, and to this union was born one child, Ethel Alberta, who with the husband, parents and two sisters and two brothers survive.

The burial will take place in Jackson township, Friday at 1 o'clock.

"HOUSE OF DAVID" CLUB.

New Philadelphia, April 29, (UP). Forty local high school boys today organized a "House of David" club to offset they say, the increasing appropriation of masculine habiliments of the fair co-eds.

Members have voted to have or shear, and if needs be will wear ribbons and nets in their locks to offset the boyish bobs affected by the girls twenty of which have donned mannish sport tops and plastered their hair close to the scalp.

Ancient Chinese Year

The Chinese year, which began late in January, or early in February, depending upon the moon, was similar to the Mohammedan in having 12 months of 29 and 30 days alternately, and in every 19 years there were 7 years which had 13 months, which were determined upon lunar observation. Since 1912 China has adopted the Christian calendar.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From Wires By Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Columbus, G. R. Lewis, Findlay, today is in Philadelphia where he takes up his new duties as director of installation of exhibits at the sequi-centennial exposition. His salary is $8,000. At the request of Governor Donahey, Director of Agriculture Truax recently dismissed Lewis as manager of the Ohio state fair.

Cleveland—The body of an unidentified man, about 55 years old, was found hanging from a rafter at the plant of the Cleveland Builders' Supply company today. The body was encased in a brown overcoat bought in Galion, Ohio.

Pinned to the man's blue serge coat was a Spanish-American war emblem. There were no cards or marks to aid authorities in identifying the body. Employees of the supply company said they had seen the man about the plant yesterday, but no one learned his name.

Columbus—Altho deemed critical, the condition of Mrs. Margaret Lowe 25, London, was reported slightly improved today at Grant hospital, Harry B. Lowe, her husband, is at liberty under $500 bond, accused of assaulting his wife with intent to kill. Mrs. Lowe declared Lowe beat her with a buggy whip. Lowe and his wife's relatives denied the charge, stating that Mrs. Lowe was subject to fainting spells and that she fell against a hot stove.

Miller City, Ohio.—If you must get drunk, it pays to do so here, for the penalty is the lowest in all Ohio.

That an old pre-Volstead ordinance for intoxication still prevails was disclosed here when Jerry Birdner, 62, was fined one dollar.

Mayor W. L. Okuly, who imposed the "maximum penalty under the law" said there was a higher penalty for disorderly conduct "but I spared Jerry any unnecessary cost."

Columbus—The State Exchange bank at Stryker, Williams county, Ohio, was closed today by H. E. Scott state superintendent of banks, because of frozen assets. The bank was capitalized at $25,000 and in the last bank call deposits of $317,400 and resources of $392,800. The banking department will liquidate the institution immediately, Scott said.

LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Ralph Metzger Passed Away at Home in Kingston—Funeral Saturday.

Mrs. Frances Metzger, wife of Ralph M. Metzger died at her home in Kingston at 8:30 o'clock this morning following a protracted illness. Her death was due to cancer.

The deceased was born in this city November 24, 1887, and was a daughter of John A. and Frances Kirkendall Fissell. She married Ralph Metzger March 13, 1907, who with one son, Ralph Meeker Metzger, survives. A son, Charles Kirkendall, and two daughters, Frances Adaline and Bettie Adelaide, preceded her in death.

Of her immediate family two brothers and two sisters are living. They are J. Kirk Fissell, of Dayton; Charles Fissell and Mrs. Minnie Snyder, of Indianapolis; and Mrs. Addie, wife of Samuel F. Hosler, of Kingston.

The funeral services will be held at the home Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. W. S. Fisher will officiate. Interment in Forest cemetery, this city.

Mrs. Metzger was a member of the Kingston chapter, Eastern Star, and was a member of the Methodist church of Kingston.

Mrs. W. W. Stokes of Dayton, who was called here by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Sarah Crow, has returned home. Mrs. Crow is very much improved and her daughter, Mrs. M. M. Morgan, of New York City, is now with her.

WANDERLUST.

Esther Seville, of Joyce avenue, Columbus, a student of the Atcherson school, was picked up at the home of Mrs. Almeda Bennett near New Holland Wednesday evening where she applied for something to eat. The child was kept until this morning when she was turned over to Mayor E. A. Riggins, who in turn brought her to this city and she was placed in the hands of the county probation officer, Mrs. Carrie Patton. The latter is making efforts to locate her grandmother, Mrs. Lena Rees, with whom the child made her home. The girl's father is an engineer on the Pennsylvania railroad. The parents do not live together. The child is twelve years of age and ran off from school Wednesday. She says she was going to Cincinnati.

CLOTHES AND HEALTH

Doubt Expressed As To Benefits of "Back To Nature" Movement.

It appears that man will have to hustle if he wishes to beat woman in the race back to nature, but, if he gets a move on and some clothes off, they both may arrive at the state of near "altogether" at the same time. Dr. E. V. Levine, of Creighton University, is credited with saying that men should get back to knee breeches, silk stockings and low cut shirts as a health move, the idea being that air and sunlight are beneficial and would have more chance to do good if men did not wear heavy clothing. Before anybody had a chance to say anything about that along came a woman designer of Chicago, who told a New York convention of sorseieres that two garments are all women will wear next summer. One of the two will be the outer dress. Gosh!

There appears to be something to this clothes and health theory. Many men now wear the same weight underwear the year round, sleeveless and knee-length garments. In the old days they wore not only heavy underwear, but they also bundled themselves about the neck with heavy mufflers, wore thick woolen gloves or mittens and caps that had cloth enough to cover the ears and was always used. If clothes are any indication, we are more hardy than our fathers were, because we certainly travel lighter than they did. Still, we feel rather dubious about this back-to-nature matter. There still are mysteries that we prefer to have solved by imagination.—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Economy in Headwear—STETSON HATS

CONSIDERED from the standpoint of the length of time you wear it, a Stetson is the cheapest hat you can buy. The smart style is an added attraction that costs you nothing, but it's a big factor in hat-satisfaction—an unbecoming style looks better on the shelf.

Our Stetson styles for this season will not stay here very long,—they will go out quickly on the heads of satisfied wearers.

What will you have to show in future years for today's shopping dollars?

A JEWELRY PURCHASE IS AN INVESTMENT IN PERMANENT VALUES

THE old copy-books of our school days declared that you can't eat your cake and have it.

Which is another way of saying that you can't spend your money, and keep it too!

But the copy-book editors overlooked the money spent at the jewelry store.

On the typical purchase from the jeweler, you draw an income of pleasure and satisfaction, year after year, while still retaining much of the principal, in easily convertible value.

For the shopping dollars entrusted to the jeweler are not spent, but invested, in a permanent addition to your estate.

Value-wise shoppers today think twice before they barter their purses for short-lived baubles. For they know that even for the modest pocket book the jeweler's stock is rich in articles, both of utility and adornment, that will last through a lifetime.

Building up a line of jewelry means building up a heritage for the decades; quick asset possessions that are a tangible and enduring evidence of one's success and achievement.

Circulation of Bible Shows Large Increase
More than 9,000,000 Bibles were issued in 1925 by the American Bible Institute. They were printed in more than 150 languages and distributed in every part of the world.
The exact number, 9,069,120, exceeds that of 1924 by 2,416,821. Last year was the greatest period of Bible circulation in the institute's history. It was announced.
More than 4,000,000 copies of the Scriptures were circulated in China last year by the society. The Japanese agency more than doubled its 1924 distribution. The homeland circulation, the announcement says, was 2,907,693. The Chicago agency distributed 625,894 copies.

Winsome Apparel for Spring Wear

Vogue for Tailored Suit Is Defined in Versions of Wide Range.

The increasing vogue of the suit, discerned last fall, is now sharply defined, notes a fashion writer in the New York Tribune. It embraces the severe tailleur in innumerable versions, executed in tweeds, mannish mixtures, hair-line chevrons, two-tone diagonals, checks, blocks, plaids and plain cluster stripes. The jacket may be short and boxy or short and snugly molded to the figure. Again it may strike the finger tip or knee length or flare at the side or across the back. It may also develop a mannish waistcoat, collar and tie, or a feminine waistcoat with a high lace collar and jabot. Silk suits introduce the heavy crepes, shantung, silk alpaca, taffeta and ribbed silk combinations.

Fabrics revealed at the recent openings proved that superfine wools are to be prominent in the smart spring wardrobe. Woolen material was seen in suits, coats, capes and dresses. Among them were fine cashmeres, reps, twills, serge, wool crepes, frisco, light-weight tweeds, covers and the range of new materials which combine silk rayon with wool. Patterns stress checks, plaids and stripes of every variation. Flannel contributed to resort wear and the sports range.

Ties are the outstanding feature of most of the new importations.

Two-Piece Frock or Jersey; Longer Blouse Is Featured.

whether flat, of upcurving front lines, plaited, circular or ruffled. The tie is decidedly the new note in dresses for spring.

Although the styles in sweaters for juniors are many, two models which promise to be much in vogue this spring are the lumberjack and slip-ons. The lumberjacks are particularly adapted for early wear because they are closely woven or knitted in what is known as the waffle stitch. These sweaters are seen in staple color combinations, such as tan or gray backgrounds with horizontal stripes in red, orange, navy or black. They button up to the neck and are finished with military collar and two pockets. The slip-ons, however, are featured in the light colors only, the horizontal stripes in many instances being supplemented by a row of bright-colored flowers. A cricket neck permits the collar of the blouse to be worn outside.

Brassiere an Article of Comfort and Beauty

Brassieres are no longer associated with heavy confining materials or the tightly drawn lace models of the past seasons, but are now being shown as an article of comfort and beauty, as well as style. First in importance is the uplift model which Paris has decreed in the return of the molded figure. Naturally the fabrics chosen would not be the unpliable materials but the woven silks of the jersey variety, nets and fine laces. These brassieres are narrow in width and cut so as to conform with the natural lines. Delicately colored ribbon casings are used for the elastic shoulder straps and the adjustment bands across the back.

Tweeds for Spring Are Thin and Finely Woven

Tweeds have taken on a new suppleness this spring. They are so thin and finely woven in some places that they might be taken for wool volles. As a rule this material is not for all figures. It is too bulky and too stiff to be used when a slenderizing effect is desired. A small herringbone pattern, woven rather finely, is one that any woman might wear. Those woven in pastel colors shading from light to dark are also new.

The kasha tolle is an attempt to make the new kashas thinner and more adaptable. These sometimes have borders in designs seen on Indian blankets made by the Hopis.

SCHOOL TEACHER PLAYED "HOOKEY"

Detroit, Mich., April 27.—(UP.)—An "awful winter" and the approach of spring with its promise of better days, induced Ardath Avery, pretty 19-year-old district school teacher of North Lima, Ohio, to play "hookey."

At least that was the story she told the Detroit police women when they took her into custody at the request of Sheriff R. W. Ferguson, of Hubbard, Trumbull county, Ohio, who came here to take her back.

"It was the most terrible winter I ever spent," she said, "with the school house snowed in most of the time—and the pupils just seemed possessed."

"And when spring came I simply could not do anything with them; but instead of telling the superintendent I just quit, I was so discouraged."

The trip to Detroit, Miss Avery said, was made partially in the company of Homer Willis, of Youngstown, Ohio.

"He was sympathetic and took me as far as Toledo where he took another train right back."

"No, I do not know where he is now," she told a detective who said today that Willis had not been found.

Miss Avery returned to North Lima with Sheriff Ferguson.

WAR TROPHY AND CHIMES DEDICATION

In Court Room--Military Organizations and Auxiliaries Will Take Part.

The program of the dedication of the Foreman Memorial Chimes and the unveiling of the World War Trophy will be given in the court room of the court house this evening at 7:30 o'clock and will be quite an event.

The chimes, the gift of the late William Foreman as a memorial to our heroic dead, came from one who appreciated the valor and worth of those who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

The unveiling of the World War Trophy is a reminder of the instruments that dealt death to our brave boys while on duty battling for those at home.

The program will start at 7:30 with Mr. S. Turney Ruggles presiding. Prayer . . . Rev. Emil S. Toensmier America . . . Mrs. A. W. Holman, Miss Helen Marion, Mr. E. S. Roper, Mr. Fred Wittich, Miss Abbe Mills Clarke, accompanist.

Concurrently with and as a part of the dedication of the chimes, Howard Hall Post, Joseph M. Lynch, commander, will unveil the World War Trophy awarded to Pickaway county by congress thru Adjutant General Henderson, of Ohio.

The trophy is a 250 caliber Minnwerfer, Trench Mortar, used by the German army in the World war and captured by Massachusetts troops of the 26th division, A. E. F., on the Aisne-Marne offensive. It will be mounted on the esplanade east of the court house.

Participating in the services will be all the military organizations of the county and their auxiliaries. Groce Post, G. A. R. will bring to the services the American flags under which all the soldiers from this county from the War of 1812 to the present time who have served in the armies of the United States, have marched.

FRANK KIBLER SUCCUMBED TO PARALYSIS

End Came at the Magnetic Springs Sanitarium Where He Was Being Treated.

Franklin Kibler died at the Whiteis sanitarium at Magnetic Springs this morning at nine o'clock of paralysis. He had been ill for the past two months with a nervous breakdown and was taking treatment at the springs when he succumbed.

The deceased was born in Pickaway township April 18, 1868, and was a son of Peter and Susan Dilshaver Kibler. He married Miss Mary Arista Lutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lutz, in October, 1892. His wife and three sons survive. They are Earl and Franklin Jr., of this city and George Kibler, of Toledo.

Of his immediate family three sisters and six brothers are living. They are Mrs. Mary Hyne, of Lima; Mrs. T. E. Ross, of Pickaway township; Mrs. Joseph Williams, of Columbus; Michael Kibler, of Solomon, Kansas; Allen and Charles Kibler, of Waynesville; Clifton Kibler, of Andover; William Kibler, of North Bend, and Arthur Kibler, of this city.

Mr. Kibler was a farmer by occupation, but had given this up the past few years and turned his attention to other business. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity.

CURSE WASHES AWAY MOST OF KASKASKIA

Illinois First Capital Rapidly Disappearing.

Kaskaskia, Ill.—In fulfillment of a legendary Indian curse, the waves of the Mississippi river, lapping away most of the site of old Kaskaskia—Illinois' first capital—have destroyed the hope of the Illinois State Historical society of placing a marker there.

With practically all of the ancient streets of the village covered by the rippling expanse of the "Father of Waters," only a small island remains to mark what was once the capital of all the territory between the Alleghenies and the Rockies. The island yearly grows smaller.

The historical society succeeded in securing a brick from the old capitol building in which the first territorial and state legislatures met.

In its disappearance, tradition has it that a legendary Indian curse has been fulfilled. Situated on a small peninsula at the mouth of the Kaskaskia or Okaw river, which joins the Mississippi river within a short distance, the site was made an island in 1881 when the two rivers met behind the town.

History of the Curse.

The story of the curse has its beginning two centuries ago when the French emigrated from Canada and came to Kaskaskia to settle among the Indians. Tradition tells how Jean Bernard, his wife and ten-year-old daughter Marie, came with them. As the village grew Bernard prospered as a trader and his daughter grew more beautiful each day. Bernard grew wealthy and was the leading citizen of the settlement.

The legend tells of the numerous suitors who were rejected by Marie firmly but politely, until one evening she set eyes on a stalwart Indian youth, one of the converts of the village.

The Indian boy had endeared himself to both his tribe and the whites by his unassuming but enterprising ways. Jean Bernard, seeing the promising youth about the village, took him into the trading business with him.

Marie fell in love with her father's protegee, much to the amazement of her parents. Indignantly Bernard severed his business connections with the boy and everything possible was done to discourage the budding romance.

Marie's suitor left the village and for a number of years was not heard of. Marie apparently had outgrown the affair when suddenly the boy appeared and the two eloped. A searching party set out and three days later found them in a camp down the Mississippi river.

Sets Indian Adrift.

"Bernard was given the privilege to do as he liked with the boy. He tied the Indian to a raft, face toward the sky, and set him adrift in the river. As the raft floated out from shore the doomed Indian cursed Bernard and Kaskaskia and asked that he be killed by his own white people and that the river destroy the village. The girl was placed in a convent, where she died.

Bernard was later killed by a Frenchman in a duel, the legend says, and the river completed the fulfillment of the curse by engulfing old Kaskaskia.

More credulous people still believe that the ghost of the Indian appears on the stormy nights, floating face upward on the waves over the vanished village.

Older than St. Louis or New Orleans, this early mission post, which provided a resting place for voyagers and was the first territorial and state capital of Illinois, lives only in history as a place to hang a story on or material for a poet's dream.

War Pension Pays

Millionaire's Tax

Boston.—A retired Boston manufacturer, whose sole occupation for the last ten years has been to cut the coupons on several million dollars of gilt-edged securities, has long enjoyed the reputation of being a pretty stingy old fellow and is the subject of many anecdotes relating to his thrift.

When income taxes were first started a dozen years ago, he hastened to change over his investments as far as possible to tax-exempt bonds. But he couldn't quite escape the income tax entirely and though his yearly tax checks to Uncle Sam were small, they nevertheless were a thorn in his side. Then he had a happy thought. He was a Civil war veteran.

He complied with the necessary formalities and for several years now has been getting pension checks from Washington at the maximum rate of $60 a month, which just about offsets his annual income tax payment. Now he chuckles instead of grumbles when he talks about his taxes.

Dull Time

With his advancement to a directorship, Jimmy Wilkinson of F. O. B. suddenly developed a taste for antiques and began ransacking the Hollywood prop shops for the usual line of junk. One day he took one of the children with him and put in several hours in dusty basements, revelling in the cobweb-covered furniture that grows more and more expensive as the years roll by.

Finally the little one, who got no kick at all out of this form of shopping, tugged at Jimmy's coat sleeve and whispered:

"Daddy, please let's not buy any more of that elderly furniture."

First Automobile Club in Ohio Celebrates Twenty-Fifth Anniversary at Cincinnati

Same Club Organized Ohio State Automobile Association and is Sixth Largest Club in the World.

The Cincinnati Automobile Club, the first club in Ohio and organizer of the Ohio State Automobile Association, will celebrate its Silver Jubilee on May 29. Dr. C. L. Colter, secretary of the club for 23 years, owned the first motor vehicle in the Ohio Valley. He is shown here with his daughter on the first automobile, taken about 1898.

Twenty-five years ago the first automobile club in Ohio and one of the first west of the Appalachian Mountains was organized in Cincinnati when three newspaper men, James Faulkner, late dean of political writers, George Randolph Chester, author, and Windsor McKay, internationally known cartoonist, all three of the Cincinnati Enquirer, decided to make news by inviting eleven motorists of the nineteen in Cincinnati in 1901, and organize a motor club.

They build so well that the Cincinnati Automobile Club will celebrate its Silver Jubilee for its twenty thousand members with the greatest outing that has ever been held in the Ohio Valley with a monstrous meeting at the Cincinnati Zoological Gardens. Two choirs, expert in the cooking of burgoo, are being brought to Cincinnati from New Orleans to make 10,000 gallons of burgoo for the occasion.

Noted Sportsman Invited.

Among the first automobilists and a charter member of the Cincinnati Automobile Club was Col. Max Fleischmann, noted sportsman and hunter. Dr. C. L. Colter, who operated the first gasoline vehicle in Cincinnati during the days of horse-drawn street cars, who was secretary of the Cincinnati Automobile Club for twenty-three years, will be an honored guest. Other celebrities will include Thomas P. Henry, President of the American Automobile Association, and Ernest Smith, general manager, with leaders in the automobile world. Delegations from every club in the Ohio State Automobile Association will visit the Queen City on that date.

At the same time, the candidacy of A. E. Mittendorf, secretary of the Cincinnati Club and first vice president of the Ohio State Automobile Association, will be launched for the presidency of the state organization. Mittendorf was recently elected trustee of the Cincinnati club with the greatest majority ever given any candidate.

Pioneer Automobiles Operated.

The early pioneer days of motordom will be graphically illustrated at the Zoo. Many of the first cars in Cincinnati will be operated at the grounds. Old costumes, goggles, long veils, dusters and touring caps, will be worn by many of the "old boys."

The Cincinnati Automobile Club today is the largest club in the Ohio River Valley; the fifth largest automobile club in the United States, and the sixth largest automobile club in the world. Located on the Mason-Dixon line, the club has always been the contact point between north and south in good roads development and legislation. Largely through the efforts of the Cincinnatians, the Dixie Highway was successfully completed and the Atlantic-Pacific Highway well underway.

STEEL TO CUT COSTS FOR HOME BUILDER

Innovation in Building Brings Well Built House Within Reach Of Average Budget.

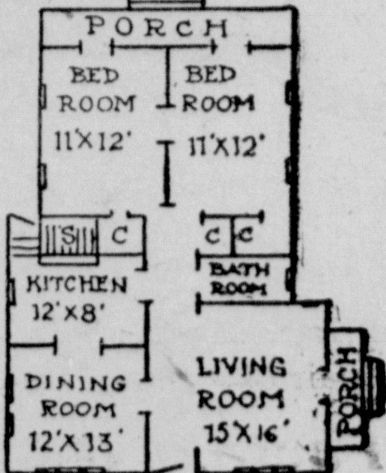

THAT the man of slender income should be able to build for himself and his family an attractive and substantial home without straining his resources far too close to the limit has for so long been almost beyond the realm of possibility that any development in building construction that will bring about a reduction in the building cost of such homes is a distinct boon to a large proportion of the American people.

Such a development, sponsored by the American Institute of Steel Construction, is now well under way in this country. It is based upon the use of all-steel construction for small dwellings, a use to which steel has been put for a number of years in Great Britain. Not enough all-steel houses have as yet been constructed in this country to permit an accurate estimate of average costs, but the cost of erecting such houses in England is not more than half that of similar dwelling in which the conventional materials are used.

A Typical Steel Dwelling

The house and plan shown here are typical of the steel frame and steel wall houses which are now being built in rapidly increasing numbers in small towns and the suburbs of the large cities throughout the United States. The rooms are all of a comfortable size and so arranged as to conserve the housewife's time and labor.

Adequate closet space is a feature that will appeal to the woman of the house. All of the rooms are well lighted, and the living room, dining room, and the two bedrooms have more than one exposure, insuring plenty of sunlight and cross ventilation. The exterior of the house is treated with a special preparation to resemble stucco.

Aside from the question of economy, the fact that metal construction appreciably decreases the fire hazard is an important consideration for the home builder. Steel houses have already proved their worth. As the number of such houses increases it will be possible to further standardize and make interchangeable the various parts, thus further cutting the costs of construction.

The steel that has made possible our skyscrapers and great bridges promises to make available to the man of small means a home of his own in which he will not be constantly harried by the landlord's demand for more rent or by the spectre of mortgage payments.

ORGAN RECITAL WAS PLEASING TO ALL HEARERS

Music Lovers Enjoyed Rare Treat at First Methodist Episcopal Church.

The organ recital given Wednesday evening, April 28, at the Methodist Episcopal church filled the auditorium to capacity and many were seated on the balcony.

The program consisted of fifteen organ numbers and Mrs. Dolores Maxwell, of Chillicothe, the soloist, rendered two numbers. She is so well known here that an introduction is superfluous. Mrs. Maxwell is popular in her home town as a soloist and as a teacher of voice culture, she is equally popular with lovers of music in this city.

Mrs. Maxwell sang exceptionally well and her rich, sweet voice filled the church with its perfect rhythm. Her rendition of "O Divine Redeemer" by Gounod, and the aria, "He Shall Feed His Flock" from "The Messiah" by Handel, were well rendered. Mrs. Maxwell was in most excellent voice and her rich mezzo contralto, was fitted for the difficult aria that she rendered so perfectly.

The playing of the organist, Sutherland Dwight Smith, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, was an exceptional musical treat. All his numbers were well received. His rendition of "Onward, Christian Soldiers," was a brilliant transcription of Sullivan's great hymn, of the Church Militant, which took the audience by storm. His fine execution of this most popular number was the best ever heard by love of the pipe organ, and was a true test of the performers art and the organ's power as a musical instrument.

Between the first and second portions of the program Mr. Smith gave a short history of the pipe organ. He traced its history back to the fourteenth century and told how its was played in days gone by in England. His talk was amusing and interesting.

This is the second organ purchased for the new church and was built by the Estey Organ company, of Brattleboro, Vermont, at a cost of $6,000. It is known as a two manual organ with pedals.

The organ contains 950 pipes with 15 stops, and 10 couplers, four pedal movements and 15 mechanical accessories.

It is one of the largest organs of its kind in this section of southern Ohio. In the place where the old console was located is a new grill and bookcase.

Miss Anna Schleyer, of this city, is the organist, who will play the instrument.

The purchasing committee was headed by Oscar Howard, as chairman ably assisted by Mrs. Rebecca Orr, Mrs. Rae R. Bales, Miss Estella Grimes, Harley B. Colwell, Dr. R. F. Lilly and Dr. B. R. Bales.

ARTISTIC TREASURE COMES TO AMERICA

Emigration of the Gutenberg Mazarin Bible, the first printed book, to America has made the Austrians realize how poor they are. For centuries the famous treasure was exhibited in a special case in the Melk Benedict cloister in the Wachau hills. War impoverished the monks so that it became necessary to part with the Bible. News of the sale was kept quiet for a time in order to avoid protest. Nevertheless the state obtained its sales tax percentage. The Melk "Stift" still has a valuable library, containing more than 7,000 volumes and manuscripts. One manuscript was written by St. Bede in 753. In the library are handwritten prayer books that once belonged to Emperor Albrecht II and Queen Beatrice of Hungary. Two other Gutenberg Bibles are in Austria, one in the national library, the other in the St. Paul cloister. The Gutenberg Bible was printed between 1450 and 1455. The capitals, border letters and ornamentations were illuminated by hand. Two hundred originals were made. Of these forty-one are known to exist today but most of them are incomplete. Thirty of the originals were printed on parchment. Six are now in the United States.

Earliest Street Lighting

Street lighting began in 1414 when a city ordinance in London required every house and store owner on certain streets to hang out at least one horn-sided lantern at sunset. Paris, in 1558, led the world in municipal street lighting when it installed tall vases at important street corners in which pitch was burned each night with flickering, sooty results. These various crude outdoor lighting methods strove ineffectually for more than 450 years to achieve what the electric carbon and filament lamps have done in the last 40 years.

AMUSEMENTS

The Marshall Neilan of the old days of "Dinty" "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," and "Minnie" is back.

His latest picture "Mike" which he made for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is playing at the Met theater, and in it Neilan again reverts to the type of picture that made him famous as a director. His famous sense of humor, his Irish wit, sprinkled with a generous supply of heart interest, are all in evidence, proving that with this type of picture Neilan never has been and will not soon be surpassed.

The entire story covers a period of only two days in the lives of an old section hand, his three young children, his eldest daughter, Mike, her sweetheart and the inhabitants of the little desert town in which they live. With these characters, Neilan has made a picture that for sheer humor and for thrills challenges any ever produced. In fact, when the audience is not doubled up with laughter, it is gripping its individual theater chairs with suspense.

Charlie Murray, that lovable old character actor, plays "Clancy," the father of Mike, and is as Irish as his name. Never has he appeared to such advantage. With Murray is one other noted comedian, Ford Sterling, as "Schultz." Both contribute to the general fun of the picture, playing their roles in all seriousness, thus making them doubly funny.

Neilan introduces a new find as Mike in the person of the piquant Sally O'Neill. She exhibits a rare beauty and an individuality that will doubtless carry her far. William Haines plays opposite her as "Harlan" in his usual capable manner.

Other members of the cast that deserve special mention are Ned Sparks, Muriel Frances Dana, Frankie Darro, Junior Cogan, Wilfred Lucas and Sam DeGrasse.

Take a look at the program and you know it's good. Be at the Parish house, West Mound street, Friday at 8 p. m. 29april22.

SAW-KNIFE OF 1500 B. C. UNEARTHED IN ENGLAND

Implement Is Found in Derbyshire With Skeleton of Man of Early Bronze Age.

London.—The skeleton of an early Bronze age man, period between 1500 and 200 B. C., with flint tools permitting scientific classification of its antiquity, has been discovered in the Peak district of Derbyshire, England.

This discovery was made by W. Allan Milton of the British Archeological society, and F. A. Holmes fellow of the Royal Geographical society, during excavations among the tumuli in the Buxton neighborhood, and scientists regard it a confirmation of earlier finds indicating the presence of prehistoric man in this district.

The skeleton was that of a man five feet seven inches in height, and conforms to the peculiarities of other known specimens of human races at that period. Buried with the skeleton were some ancient flint tools, one a saw-knife three inches long and three-quarter-inch wide, which experienced archeologists regard as the best specimen of its kind yet found in Derbyshire. One side of this implement is pointed like a knife, and the other has 12 perfect serrations. The saw evidently was used to cut through the flesh of animals and the knife to pare off the skin.

As some tumuli in the neighborhood have been known to contain 18 interments, Milton and Holmes are continuing their search, and are in hopes of unearthing pottery urns as the calcined bones of the dead were buried in the Bronze age. The searchers have also found two Roman pottery eating vessels and a drinking cup unearthed at Sylvan Cliff, Buxton. The vessels are broken, but can easily be pieced together, and are pronounced fine specimens of Roman work.

Humorous Turn Given to American Greeting

The following story was told in a statement prepared by the Associated Press to be broadcast from various radio stations throughout the country: "When the late President Roosevelt was coming out of Africa, after his famous hunting trip, he was given a reception by the American colony at Khartum, where the Associated Press was represented by a newly engaged English newspaperman. He was instructed to report the reception. It seems that when Mr. Roosevelt arrived the Americans greeted him with the then popular American cry: 'What's the matter with Teddy? He's all right.' This was music to the ears of the colonel, but it was all Greek to the English correspondent. However, he determined to report the incident, but in good king's English. Accordingly he cabled the Associated Press as follows: 'As Colonel Roosevelt approached, the members of the American colony, as with one accord, lifted their hats and exclaimed: "Is there anything wrong with Colonel Roosevelt? No, he is in good health."—Pathfinder Mag.

HUSBAND ARRESTED

For Wife Beating—Woman In Hospital As Result of Her Injuries.

Columbus, April 27.—(UP.)—Mrs. Margaret Lowe, of near London, O., was in a critical condition here today from a horse-whipping said to have been administered by her husband, on April 9.

Mrs. Lowe was brought to the hospital when physicians at London despaired of her life. Lowe is held at London on charges of assault with intent to kill. He has been denied bond.

Dr. J. F. Baldwin who examined Mrs. Lowe, said she is suffering from deep bruises and lacerations. She has been unconscious and delirious and only has a bare chance of recovery, he said.

Prosecuting Attorney H. H. Crabbe, of Madison county, filed charges against Lowe after hospital authorities told him that on two occasions when the stricken woman regained consciousness, she whispered her husband had attacked her with a buggy whip and his fist.

Lowe denied the charge when placed under arrest.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Beefsteak Pie.

Cut two and a half pounds of top sirloin steak into convenient small pieces. Line a buttered, deep dish with good short pastry. Put in the meat with pepper and salt, sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of onion juice, cut in half a pound of fresh mushrooms, dot thickly with butter, dust with flour and sprinkle with a cupful of good, well seasoned stock. Put on the top crust, leaving a vent in the center and bake in a medium oven until the crust is done. Sometimes, a quarter pound of calf's liver may be boiled and chopped fine and added to the pie. Also a couple of slices of bacon may be placed on top just before the top crust is added.

Swiss Steak.

Take a two-pound piece of top round steak cut thick, and dust it over with pepper and salt, dredge it on both sides with flour, then lay it in a hot frying pan with butter enough to cover the bottom. Cover the steak but turn it frequently until it seems to be cooked through, then turn over it a large cupful of strained tomato juice, a half bud of garlic and a little more pepper, salt and a teaspoonful of sugar. Cover and cook slowly until the gravy begins to be cooked and slightly thickened, then lift to a hot dish and turn the gravy over all. Garnish with baked potatoes and parsley.

COMFORT

It is not merely what you say but what you are thinking that creates your mood, rouses your impulse, inspires your attitude and moulds your soul.

By God's grace (and you must ask him for it) strive to think straight regarding your loving father, who has prepared for you such glorious service as passes man's understanding and who is at this moment helping you to rise through hardship into splendid power.—Frederick G. Budlong.

Art Long, but Doesn't Pay

One French painter who has exhibited for many years at the salons and has acquired considerable reputation recently performed the duty, incumbent on all citizens, of declaring his income for the last year. A few days later he received a polite letter from his tax collector in which the official expressed surprise that a master of such talent did not derive a larger income from his work. The artist's reply was brief and to the point. He wrote: "I am just as surprised as you are."

GOD'S COVENANT WITH NOAH

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 8:20-9:27.
GOLDEN TEXT—I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth.—Gen. 9:13.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Promise of the Rainbow.
JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Promise to Noah.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Story of Noah.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—God's Dealing With Noah.

In order to grasp the meaning of God's covenant with Noah, the whole story of the flood should be clearly in the mind of the teacher and the pupil.

I. The Cause of the Flood (6:1-8). It was apostasy from God. The two types of men we saw in Cain and Abel (the one of proud self-will, the other of humble faith), developed on diverging lines, but as they multiplied they came into contact and in the end.

II. The Ark the Way of Salvation (6:14-7:24).

Although all flesh had corrupted its way before God, in His mercy provision was made for such as would avail themselves of it. Christ is the ark into which all who enter are eternally saved. As all outside of the ark perished, so all outside the redemption of Christ shall perish (Mark 16:16; II Thess. 1:8, 9; John 3:18, 19, 36; I Pet. 3:18-22).

Observe in connection with this judgment and provision of salvation:

1. The long-suffering God—He waited 120 years.

2. Noah, a preacher of righteousness (I Pet. 2:5).

God not only waited long, but through Noah sounded forth intelligent warnings.

3. God will not withhold His anger forever. At the appointed time the flood came and everything perished outside of the ark.

III. Beginning Life Upon a New World (Gen. 8:20).

This was a most solemn hour for Noah. With the fresh consciousness of God's hatred and judgment of sin, Noah faced the responsibility of giving shape to the life which was beginning upon the cleansed earth. He was to replenish the earth. Happily Noah began right, for he began with the act of worship.

IV. The Covenant With Noah (8:21; 9:27).

God was well pleased with Noah's act of devotion. Because of this He entered into a covenant with him embracing the following elements:

1. Assurance of the perpetuity of the race (8:21, cf. 9:8-17).

The bow was set in the cloud as a token or guarantee of this.

2. The security of the order of nature (8:22).

We know of the succession of the seasons and the ongoing of the system of nature only because of the guarantee of Him who controls them all.

3. Establishing the privileges and responsibilities of Noah and his descendants in their relation to the earth (9:1-4).

(1) The earth to be replenished (v. 1).

(2) Dominion restored. The dominion which was lost through the fall of man was now restored, but on the ground of fear.

(3) Animal food given.

Heretofore man subsisted on a vegetable diet (Gen. 1:29).

4. Human government established (9:4-6).

The sword of justice was placed in man's hands and man was to be ruled by man. This sword has never been removed (Rom. 13:1-7).

5. The destinies and interrelations of the three great branches of the race fixed (9:18-27).

(1) Cursed be Canaan (v. 25). The descendants of Ham were reduced to the lowest condition of servitude. This was partly fulfilled in the time of Joshua in their being partly exterminated and partly reduced to the lowest form of servitude, and also in the time of Solomon (Josh. 9:23; I Kings 9:20, 21), and it is still in the process of fulfillment in that for the most part Canaan's descendants are the world's servants.

(2) Blessed shall be Shem (v. 26).

This was fulfilled in making the Jewish race the repository of religious truth and ultimately in Christ the promised seed.

(3) Enlargement of Japheth (v. 27). This was fulfilled in making him the progenitor of peoples and multitudes (10:5); also in the civilization which has been brought to the world through him.

Christ and the Resurrection

Let the science of historical investigation be rigorously applied to the resurrection of Jesus. Christianity will not fear the proof. For it has pleased God that this crowning seal put to His Son's life should be sustained and guarded by an amount of proof such as no other fact in ancient history can boast; so that no honest searcher for truth might be left in doubt that Jesus of Nazareth has been declared to be the Son of God with power.—J. Oswald Dykes.

ORGANIZATION OF FOOD CLUB.

Mildred Stoer, leader of the Monroe township Food club called a meeting at the school building on Wednesday, April 21, for the purpose of organizing the club, in which there are ten girls, three in the first year and seven in the second, namely, first year; Mary Downs, Marjorie Arbogast.

Second year; Julia Hosler, Dorothy Porter, Freda McCafferty, Marvane Lane, Charlotte Knapp, Geroldine Dennis and Mary McCafferty.

It was named "The Honey Dew" club and the officers are; President, Dorothy Porter; secretary-treasurer, Julia Hosler; news reporter, Mary McCafferty; cheer leader, Mary Downs.

The next meeting will be at the school building on May 5. We hope this club will be a great success.

THE SICK.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown and daughter, of near East Ringgold, who were ill of measles and threatened with pneumonia, are some better and able to be out now.

x HARTMAN THEATER. x
x x x x x x x x

"New Brooms," the famous comedy triumph written by Frank Graven and in which he starred for a time, will be the second offering, starting Monday night, April 26, by the Hartman Stock company which Lee M. and Robert F. Boda, who have had charge of the Hartman theater, Columbus, ever since it was built, are presenting this season in association with Ambrose M. Miller, of New York.
This is the first time that the Boda's have ever sponsored their own stock company directly and two cars of scenic and electrical equipment were brought on from New York in order to maintain the high standard of the regular winter season. John Hayden, the director, has five or six productions on Broadway now that he has directed, and it was only after considerable persuasion that he came to Columbus.
"New Brooms" was booked to play the Hartman this past season but it could not be crowded in so this will be the first opportunity patrons here will have of seeing this great comedy.
Critics everywhere have hailed it as the best work of Frank Craven, and the roles will be in the capable hands company. Jean Ford and Donn Cook of the members of the Hartman Stock having just finished a season on tour play the leading roles, both of them with Mrs. Fiske in the all star, "The Rivals." Other members of the company are Georgia Neese, John Lott, William Ingersoll and Gilberta Faust, who made many friends in Columbus last season; Martha Lee Manners, Neil McAfee, Forrest Orr, Elise Bristol and Frank Milan.
Allen Hale's orchestra plays for dancing in the foyer, thirty minutes before the play and during intermissions. As a special afternoon feature the orchestra will play for thirty minutes after each matinee. Matinees and on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Prices range from fifty cents to one dollar at night and twenty-five and fifty cents at the matinees. Season reservation lists are still open.

Sealing Wax Used as Paint

Painting with sealing wax is an interesting innovation. Break the sealing wax into small pieces, place in a pan and melt by holding over a flame. Remove from fire and add enough denatured alcohol to make of the consistency of paint. It can now be used very effectively to decorate toilet articles, household articles and various other things which make suitable gifts. As the sealing wax comes in all of the desired colors it is very adaptable for use in decoration.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY

The first duty of a man is to do his duty first.

We waste time because there is so much of it.

Lots of men have an aim in life but lack ammunition.

Nine-tenths of the born leaders of men are women.

A bad memory is the skeleton in the liar's closet.

Circumstances make fewer men than they discover.

A warm heart isn't very valuable without a wise head.

A thorn in the flesh is more troublesome than two on the bush.

Much personal enjoyment results from kind and charitable acts.

The average man seems to think that others expect too much of him.

When one waits ten minutes for a street car he says it's "half an hour."

 able to escape from himself?—Horace.

MONDAY CLUB WORK OF YEAR IS REVIEWED

Mrs. Ritz, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Allen are to Attend the Springfield Meeting.

Monday night, April 26, which was the last meeting for the year of the Monday club, was a very happy and profitable one.

The work of the year, with Mrs.
 Ritz as chairman, was reviewed and praised. Reports from Mrs. A. L.
 Wilder, treasurer; Mrs. Glenn Nickerson, recording secretary; Miss Litt-lton, corresponding secretary; Miss Yates, chairman of the civics committee, and also the executive report testified to the excellence and the mass of work which had been accomplished.

The music committee, under the capable direction of Mrs. Clark Will, has delighted the club with the splendid musical choruses. The membership has been increased, a new constitution drafted and adopted and much community work carried out.

The social committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Teegardin, gave a most delightful party at the home of Mrs. May, when the district superintendent, Mrs. Schwarz, was the speaker. The history division, Mrs. Howard Jones, leader, delighted the hearers with a lecture by Professor Washburn, of the Ohio State university, while the literature division, Miss Grace Moodie, chairman, with Mrs. Ulm, as interlocutor, and the members as participants, gave the play "Sun-up." A play, "The Husband with a Dumb Wife," was splendidly put on at the Presbyterian church.

After all reports, the program under the direction of Mrs. Stewart opened by the reading of an interesting paper, by Miss Flora Dunlap.
 Three piano numbers were given by Miss Schleyer in her excellent and characteristic manner. The chorus, Israel, the words by Edgar Allen Poe and melody by Edgar Kelly Stillman, was beautifully rendered. Miss Helen Marion in three solos was never more enthusiastically received. One of the bright spots in the happy evening were the violin numbers by Miss Groce, now a student at the Capital university.

The talent of Miss Groce is well known in Circleville and was never more pleasing than upon this evening.
 Mrs. Carl Ritz, president; Mrs. E.
 F. Anderson, president elect, with Mrs. E. A. Allen as alternate, were appointed delegates to the convention of Women's clubs to be held in Springfield in May.

CHURCH CHOIR TO ENTERTAIN GOOD PROGRAM

Friday evening St. Philip's choir will present an entertainment consisting of an harmonious mixture of music and humor at the parish house. An exceptional array of talent has been mustered and all indications promise a highly entertaining presentation.

The first part of the program will be by Mr. Fred Williams, concert pianist, and Miss Margaret Williams, humorous reader, of Cleveland.

The second part will be a play in one act and many laughs, "The Last Chance."

NATIONAL WIDE DRIVE AGAINST CRIME

TO BE MADE BY VIGILANTES IS SANCTIONED BY COOLIDGE

Manufacturers Indorse Restrictions of Arms—Recent Murders in Chicago Shock To Whole Country—American Vigilantes, Also Known As the National Crime Commission, Spurred To Action—Their Keynote Is, Rouse the State To Law Enforcement—Toting of Guns To Be Stopped.

such as those devoted to patriotism, labor, commerce and organizations of women citizens, by asking their aid in applying their influence within the states upon public opinion and public authority."

President Coolidge's pledge of cooperation was emphatic.

"Great increase of crimes of violence in our large cities demands most serious discussion on the best means of improving our machinery for the apprehension, conviction and punishment of offenders. But back of this should be the power of public opinion."

"It is one of the most powerful forces in the maintenance of law and order. Encourage the organization of groups in the various states not only to take up and make more effective the efforts of the criminal authorities to enforce the law. This is a work which deserves the support of all good citizens. May success attend your plan."

Doubly shocked by Wednesday's Chicago assassination, President Coolidge wished the new American Vigilantes, known as the National Crime commission, godspeed in their work.

That work is the mapping of a nation wide drive against crimes of violence, and it went forward all this day in half a dozen secret commissions under the leadership of Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; Richard Washburn Child, of New York, former ambassador; Newton D. Baker, of Ohio, former secretary of war; Charles E. Hughes, of New York; Herbert S. Hadley, former governor of Missouri; Senator Charles S. Deenen, of Illinois; Mr. Richard Derby, of New York, daughter of the late Theodore Roosevelt; Franklin Roosevelt, Henry Barret Chamberlain, director of the Chicago crime commission; Charles S. Whitman, former governor of New York; General James A. Drain, of Washington, former commander of the American Legion; Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Trubee F. Davison, of New York and Governor Winant of New Hampshire.

Responding promptly to Coolidge's plea for action, former Ambassador Child said:

"Altho fact finding is an essential part of the necessary labor in combating a crime, it is unwise for firemen who receive an alarm to go into too long a conference to discuss the causes of fire."

The new vigilantes, who carried no nooses, but ran to firm chins and had an ominous gleam in their eyes, worked to such good purpose all day that they had brought over one of the great arms manufacturing companies to make a formal public pledge that it would support instead of balk, legislation for a "uniform law" in the several states to "control the sale, ownership and possession and use" of pistols and revolvers.

The company even went so far as to urge the vigilantes to enlist for suppression of a murderous traffic, support of the attorney general of the United States, the adjutant's general, the International association of Police Chiefs; the National Rifle association and the United States Revolver association.

Thas was the biggest single feature of a day which was heavy with intensive work and interrupted by frequent grim comment on the assassination of McSwiggin.

Its keynote was "Rouse the States for Law Enforcement!"

Arguments and plans were crystallized in an appeal to the American people to organize crime commissions in each state and to work with the National crime commission by arousing and enlisting the aid of these four agencies:

"1. Public opinion, by keeping the need to combat crime before the eyes of the dutiful citizens.

"2. Federal authority, by asking such approval and cooperation within the scope of federal influence and power.

"3. The governors of the states, by willingness to take up with them the plans for state crime commissions.

"4. Organizations of national scope

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From Wires By Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Columbus.—G. R. Lewis, Findlay, today is in Philadelphia where he takes up his new duties as director of installation of exhibits at the sesqui-centennial exposition. His salary is $8,000. At the request of Governor Donahey, Director of Agriculture Truax recently dismissed Lewis as manager of the Ohio state fair.

Cleveland—The body of an unidentified man, about 55 years old, was found hanging from a rafter at the plant of the Cleveland Builders' Supply company today. The body was encased in a brown overcoat bought in Galion, Ohio.

Pinned to the man's blue serge coat was a Spanish-American war emblem. There were no cards or marks to aid authorities in identifying the body. Employees of the supply company said they had seen the man about the plant yesterday, but no one learned his name.

Columbus—Altho deemed critical, the condition of Mrs. Margaret Lowe 25, London, was reported slightly improved today at Grant hospital, Harry B. Lowe, her husband, is at liberty under $500 bond, accused of assaulting his wife with intent to kill. Mrs. Lowe declared Lowe beat her with a buggy whip. Lowe and his wife's relatives denied the charge, stating that Mrs. Lowe was subject to fainting spells and that she fell against a hot stove.

Miller City, Ohio.—If you must get drunk, it pays to do so here, for the penalty is the lowest in all Ohio.

That an old pre-Volstead ordinance for intoxication still prevails was disclosed here when Jerry Birdner, 62, was fined one dollar.

Mayor W. L. Okuly, who imposed the "maximum penalty under the law" said there was a higher penalty for disorderly conduct "but I spared Jerry any unnecessary cost.

Columbus — The State Exchange bank at Stryker, Williams county, Ohio, was closed today by H. E. Scott, state superintendent of banks, because of frozen assets. The bank was capitalized at $25,000 and in the last bank call deposits of $317,400 and resources of $392,800. The banking department will liquidate the institution immediately, Scott said.

MONOPOLY TO CONTROL RATE IS CHARGED

Against American Telephone and Telegraph Company in Federal Court.

Charges that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., exercises virtual monopoly in the United States were made Wednesday by David H. Crowley, special counsel for the city of Detroit in the rate hearings before a master in chancery in federal court.

Crowley based his assertions on testimony of Edward V. Cox, assistant vice president of the A. T. & T. concerning the agreement that exists between the telephone company and its subsidiaries governing purchase of supplies from the Western Electric company.

Cox testified the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., a subsidiary of the A. T. and T., saves $2,000,000 annually in purchasing the Western Electric Co., and on cross-examination said the Western Electric company increased prices 400 per cent to concerns not subsidiaries of the A. T. & T.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co., is petitioning the federal court to rescind lower rates on telephones in Detroit ordered recently by the state public service commission.

Testimony given by Cox was in connection with an investigation of the service rendered by the parent company in return for the four per cent paid by the subsidiaries to the A. T. and T. Thomas A. Green, assistant attorney general of Michigan, asked that Cox's testimony regarding savings in the purchase of supplies be thrown out because the Western Electric company was a monopoly and there could be no comparable market on which to estimate savings.

William S. Sayres Jr., federal master in chancery, reserved decision on admitting the testimony.

MRS. ARCHIE ROSE

Died at Her Home in Perry Township—Funeral Ser- vices Friday Forenoon.

Bertha Edith Rose, wife of Archie Rose, died at the home of her parents in Perry township, Wednesday night, April 28, at 10 o'clock, after a very prolonged illness.

She was the daughter of John and Mamie Heinis McCombs and was born in Gallia county, Ohio, on the 28th day of October, 1898, and was married to Archie Rose on the 24th day of December, 1919, and to this union was born one child, Ethel Alberta, who with the husband, parents and two sisters and two brothers survive.

The burial will take place in Jackson township, Friday at 1 o'clock.

Members have voted to have or shear, and if needs be will wear ribbons and nets in their locks to offset the boyish bobs affected by the girls twenty of which have donned mannish sport togs and plastered their hair close to the scalp.

Ancient Chinese Year

The Chinese year, which began late in January, or early in February, depending upon the moon, was similar to the Mohammedan in having 12 months of 29 and 30 days alternately, and in every 19 years there were 7 years which had 13 months, which were determined upon lunar observation. Since 1912 China has adopted the Christian calendar.

CLOTHES AND HEALTH

Doubt Expressed As To Benefits of "Back To Nature" Movement.

It appears that man will have to hustle if he wishes to beat woman in the race back to nature, but, if he gets a move on and some clothes off, they both may arrive at the state of near "altogether" at the same time. Dr. E. V. Levine, of Creighton University, is credited with saying that men should get back to knee breeches, silk stockings and low cut shirts as a health move, the idea being that air and sunlight are beneficial and would have more chance to do good if men did not wear heavy clothing. Before anybody had a chance to say anything about that along came a woman designer of Chicago, who told a New York convention of sorscieres that two garments are all women will wear next summer. One of the two will be the outer dress. Gosh!

There appears to be something to this clothes and health theory. Many men now wear the same weight underwear the year round, sleeveless and knee-length garments. In the old days they wore not only heavy underwear, but they also bundled themselves about the neck with heavy mufflers, wore thick woolen gloves or mittens and caps that had cloth enough to cover the ears and was always used. If clothes are any indication, we are more hardy than our fathers were, because we certainly travel lighter than they did. Still, we feel rather dubious about this back-to-nature matter. There still are mysteries that we prefer to have solved by imagination.—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Economy in Headwear—STETSON HATS

CONSIDERED from the standpoint of the length of time you wear it, a Stetson is the cheapest hat you can buy. The smart style is an added attraction that costs you nothing, but it's a big factor in hat-satisfaction—an unbecoming style looks better on the shelf.

Our Stetson styles for this season will not stay here very long,—they will go out quickly on the heads of satisfied wearers.

CADDY MILLER'S HAT SHOP

What will you have to show in future years for today's shopping dollars?

A JEWELRY PURCHASE IS AN INVESTMENT IN PERMANENT VALUES

THE old copy-books of our school days declared that you can't eat your cake and have it.

Which is another way of saying that you can't spend your money, and keep it too!

But the copy-book editors overlooked the money spent at the jewelry store.

On the typical purchase from the jeweler, you draw an income of pleasure and satisfaction, year after year, while still retaining much of the principal, in easily convertible value.

For the shopping dollars entrusted to the jeweler are not spent, but invested, in a permanent addition to your estate.

Value-wise shoppers today think twice before they barter their purses for short-lived baubles. For they know that even for the modest pocket book the jeweler's stock is rich in articles, both of utility and adornment, that will last through a lifetime.

Building up a line of jewelry means building up a heritage for the decades; quick asset possessions that are a tangible and enduring evidence of one's success and achievement.

Circulation of Bible Shows Large Increase
More than 9,000,000 Bibles were issued in 1925 by the American Bible Institute. They were printed in more than 150 languages and distributed in every part of the world.
The exact number, 9,069,120, exceeds that of 1924 by 2,416,821. Last year was the greatest period of Bible circulation in the institute's history. It was announced.
More than 4,000,000 copies of the Scriptures were circulated in China last year by the society. The Japanese agency more than doubled its 1924 distribution. The homeland circulation, the announcement says, was 2,907,693. The Chicago agency distributed 625,894 copies.

Winsome Apparel for Spring Wear

Vogue for Tailored Suit Is Defined in Versions of Wide Range.

The increasing vogue of the suit, discerned last fall, is now sharply defined, notes a fashion writer in the New York Tribune. It embraces the severe tailleur in innumerable versions, executed in tweeds, mannish mixtures, hair-line chevots, two-tone diagonals, checks, blocks, plaids and plain cluster stripes. The jacket may be short and boxy or short and snugly molded to the figure. Again it may strike the finger tip or knee length or flare at the side or across the back. It may also develop a mannish waistcoat, collar and tie, or a feminine waistcoat with a high lace collar and jabot. Silk suits introduce the heavy crepes, shantung, silk alpaca, taffeta and ribbed silk combinations.

Fabrics revealed at the recent openings proved that superfine wools are to be prominent in the smart spring wardrobe. Woolen material was seen in suits, coats, capes and dresses. Among them were fine cashmeres, reps, twills, serge, wool crepes, frisca, light-weight tweeds, coverts and the range of new materials which combine silk rayon with wool. Patterns stress checks, plaids and stripes of every variation. Flannel contributed to resort wear and the sports range.

Ties are the outstanding feature of most of the new importations.

Two-Piece Frock of Jersey; Longer Blouse Is Featured.

whether flat, of upcurving front lines, plaited, circular or ruffled. The tie is decidedly the new note in dresses for spring.
Although the styles in sweaters for juniors are many, two models which promise to be much in vogue this spring are the lumberjack and slip-ons. The lumberjacks are particularly adapted for early wear because they are closely woven or knitted in what is known as the waffle stitch. These sweaters are seen in staple color combinations, such as tan or gray backgrounds with horizontal stripes in red, orange, navy or black. They button up to the neck and are finished with military collar and two pockets. The slip-ons, however, are featured in the light colors only, the horizontal stripes in many instances being supplemented by a row of bright-colored flowers. A cricket neck permits the collar of the blouse to be worn outside.

Brassiere an Article of Comfort and Beauty

Brassieres are no longer associated with heavy confining materials or the tightly drawn lace models of the past seasons, but are now being shown as an article of comfort and beauty, as well as style. First in importance is the uplift model which Paris has decreed in the return of the molded figure. Naturally the fabrics chosen would not be the unpliable materials but the woven silks of the jersey variety, nets and fine laces. These brassieres are narrow in width and cut so as to conform with the natural lines. Delicately colored ribbon casings are used for the elastic shoulder straps and the adjustment bands across the back.

Tweeds for Spring Are Thin and Finely Woven

Tweeds have taken on a new suppleness this spring. They are so thin and finely woven in some places that they might be taken for wool voiles. As a rule this material is not for all figures. It is too bulky and too stiff to be used when a slenderizing effect is desired. A small herringbone pattern, woven rather finely, is one that any woman might wear. Those woven in pastel colors shading from light to dark are also new.

The kasha toile is an attempt to make the new kashas thinner and more adaptable. These sometimes have borders in designs seen on Indian blankets made by the Hopis.

SCHOOL TEACHER PLAYED "HOOKEY"

Detroit, Mich., April 27.—(UP.)—An "awful winter" and the approach of spring with its promise of better days, induced Ardath Avery, pretty 19-year-old district school teacher of North Lima, Ohio, to play "hookey."

At least that was the story she told the Detroit police women when they took her into custody at the request of Sheriff R. W. Ferguson, of Hubbard, Trumbull county, Ohio, who came here to take her back.

"It was the most terrible winter I ever spent," she said, "with the school house snowed in most of the time—and the pupils just seemed possessed."

"And when spring came I simply could not do anything with them; but instead of telling the superintendent I just quit, I was so discouraged."

The trip to Detroit, Miss Avery said, was made partially in the company of Homer Willis, of Youngstown, Ohio.

"He was sympathetic and took me as far as Toledo where he took another train right back."

"No, I do not know where he is now," she told a detective who said today that Willis had not been found.

Miss Avery returned to North Lima with Sheriff Ferguson.

WAR TROPHY AND CHIMES DEDICATION

In Court Room—Military Organizations and Auxiliaries Will Take Part.

The program of the dedication of the Foresman Memorial Chimes and the unveiling of the World War Trophy will be given in the court room of the court house this evening at 7:30 o'clock and will be quite an event.

The chimes, the gift of the late William Foresman as a memorial to our heroic dead, came from one who appreciated the valor and worth of those who made the supreme sacrifice in the World war.

The unveiling of the World War Trophy is a reminder of the instruments that dealt death to our brave boys while on duty battling for those at home.

The program will start at 7:30 with Mr. S. Turney Ruggles presiding.

Concurrently with and as a part of the dedication of the chimes, Howard Hall Post, Joseph M. Lynch, commander, will unveil the World War Trophy awarded to Pickaway county by congress thru Adjutant General Henderson, of Ohio.

The trophy is a 250 caliber Minnervener, Trench Mortar, used by the German army in the World war and captured by Massachusetts troops of the 26th division, A. E. F., on the Aisne-Marne offensive. It will be mounted on the esplanade east of the court house.

Participating in the services will be all the military organizations of the county and their auxiliaries. Groce Post, G. A. R. will bring to the services the American flags under which all the soldiers from this county from the War of 1812 to the present time who have served in the armies of the United States, have marched.

FRANK KIBLER SUCCUMBED TO PARALYSIS

End Came at the Magnetic Springs Sanitarium Where He Was Being Treated.

Franklin Kibler died at the White's sanitarium at Magnetic Springs this morning at nine o'clock of paralysis. He had been ill for the past two months with a nervous breakdown and was taking treatment at the springs when he succumbed.

The deceased was born in Pickaway township April 18, 1868, and was a son of Peter and Susan Dilshaver Kibler. He married Miss Mary Arista Lutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lutz, in October, 1892. His wife and three sons survive. They are Earl and Franklin Jr., of this city and George Kibler, of Toledo.

Of his immediate family three sisters and six brothers are living. They are Mrs. Mary Hyne, of Lima; Mrs. T. E. Ross, of Pickaway township; Mrs. Joseph Williams, of Columbus; Michael Kibler, of Solomon, Kansas; Allen and Charles Kibler, of Waynesville; Clifton Kibler, of Andover; William Kibler, of North Bend, and Arthur Kibler, of this city.

Mr. Kibler was a farmer by occupation, but had given this up the past few years and turned his attention to other business. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity.

CURSE WASHES AWAY MOST OF KASKASKIA

Illinois First Capital Rapidly Disappearing.

Kaskaskia, Ill.—In fulfillment of a legendary Indian curse, the waves of the Mississippi river, lapping away most of the site of old Kaskaskia—Illinois' first capital—have destroyed the hope of the Illinois State Historical society of placing a marker there.

With practically all of the ancient streets of the village covered by the rippling expanse of the "Father of Waters," only a small island remains to mark what was once the capital of all the territory between the Alleghenies and the Rockies. The island yearly grows smaller.

The historical society succeeded in securing a brick from the old capital building in which the first territorial and state legislatures met.

In its disappearance, tradition has it that a legendary Indian curse has been fulfilled. Situated on a small peninsula at the mouth of the Kaskaskia or Okaw river, which joins the Mississippi river within a short distance, the site was made an island in 1881 when the two rivers met behind the town.

History of the Curse.

The story of the curse has its beginning two centuries ago when the French emigrated from Canada and came to Kaskaskia to settle among the Indians. Tradition tells how Jean Benard, his wife and ten-year-old daughter Marie, came with them. As the village grew Benard prospered as a trader and his daughter grew more beautiful each day. Benard grew wealthy and was the leading citizen of the settlement.

The legend tells of the numerous suitors who were rejected by Marie firmly but politely, until one evening she set eyes on a stalwart Indian youth, one of the converts of the village.

The Indian boy had endeared himself to both his tribe and the whites by his unassuming but enterprising ways. Jean Benard, seeing the promising youth about the village, took him into the trading business with him.

Marie fell in love with her father's protégé, much to the amazement of her parents. Indignantly Benard severed his business connections with the boy and everything possible was done to discourage the budding romance.

Marie's suitor left the village and for a number of years was not heard of. Marie apparently had outgrown the affair when suddenly the boy appeared and the two eloped. A searching party set out and three days later found them in a camp down the Mississippi river.

Sets Indian Adrift.

Benard was given the privilege to do as he liked with the boy. He tied the Indian to a raft, face toward the sky, and set him adrift in the river. As the raft floated out from shore the doomed Indian cursed Benard and Kaskaskia and asked that he be killed by his own white people and that the river destroy the village. The girl was placed in a convent, where she died.

Benard was later killed by a Frenchman in a duel, the legend says, and the river completed the fulfillment of the curse by engulfing old Kaskaskia.

More credulous people still believe that the ghost of the Indian appears on the stormy nights, floating face upward on the waves over the vanished village.

Older than St. Louis or New Orleans, this early mission post, which provided a resting place for voyagers and was the first territorial and state capital of Illinois, lives only in history as a place to hang a story on or material for a poet's dream.

War Pension Pays Millionaire's Tax

Boston.—A retired Boston manufacturer, whose sole occupation for the last ten years has been to cut the coupons on several million dollars of gilt-edged securities, has long enjoyed the reputation of being a pretty stingy old fellow and is the subject of many anecdotes relating to his thrift.

When income taxes were first started a dozen years ago, he hastened to change over his investments as far as possible to tax-exempt bonds. But he couldn't quite escape the income tax entirely and though his yearly tax checks to Uncle Sam were small, they nevertheless were a thorn in his side. Then he had a happy thought. He was a Civil war veteran.

He complied with the necessary formalities and for several years now has been getting pension checks from Washington at the maximum rate of $60 a month, which just about offsets his annual income tax payment. Now he chuckles instead of grumbles when he talks about his taxes.

Dull Time

With his advancement to a directorship, Jimmy Wilkinson of F. O. B. suddenly developed a taste for antiques and began ransacking the Hollywood prop shops for the usual line of junk. One day he took one of the children with him and put in several hours in dusty basements, revelling in the cobweb-covered furniture that grows more and more expensive as the years roll by.

Finally the little one, who got no kick at all out of this form of shopping, tugged at Jimmy's coat sleeve and whispered:

"Daddy, please let's not buy any more of that elderly furniture."

First Automobile Club in Ohio Celebrates
Twenty-Fifth Anniversary at Cincinnati

Same Club Organized Ohio State Automobile Association and is Sixth Largest Club in the World.

The Cincinnati Automobile Club, the first club in Ohio and organizer of the Ohio State Automobile Association, will celebrate its Silver Jubilee on May 29. Dr. C. L. Colter, secretary of the club for 23 years, owned the first motor vehicle in the Ohio Valley. He is shown here with his daughter on the first automobile, taken about 1898.

Twenty-five years ago the first automobile club in Ohio and one of the first west of the Appalachian Mountains was organized in Cincinnati when three newspaper men, James Faulkner, late dean of political writers, George Randolph Chester, author, and Windsor McKay, internationally known cartoonist, all three of the Cincinnati Enquirer, decided to make news by inviting eleven motorists of the nineteen in Cincinnati in 1901, and organize a motor club.

They builded so well that the Cincinnati Automobile Club will celebrate its Silver Jubilee for its twenty thousand members with the greatest outing that has ever been held in the Ohio Valley with a monstrous meeting at the Cincinnati Zoological Gardens. Two chefs, expert in the cooking of bungalow, are being brought to Cincinnati from New Orleans to make 10,000 gallons of bungalow for the occasion.

Noted Sportsman Invited.

Among the first automobilists and a charter member of the Cincinnati Automobile Club, was Col. Max Fleischmann, noted sportsman and hunter. Dr. C. L. Colter, who operated the first gasoline vehicle in Cincinnati during the days of horse-drawn street cars, who was secretary of the Cincinnati Automobile Club for twenty-three years, will be an honored guest. Other celebrities will include Thomas P. Henry, President of the American Automobile Association, and Ernest Smith, general manager, with leaders in the automobile world. Delegations from every club in the Ohio State Automobile Association will visit the Queen City on that date.

At the same time, the candidacy of A. E. Mittendorf, secretary of the Cincinnati Club and first vice president of the Ohio State Automobile Association, will be launched for the presidency of the state organization. Mittendorf was recently elected trustee of the Cincinnati club with the greatest majority ever given any candidate.

Pioneer Automobiles Operated.

The early pioneer days of motordom will be graphically illustrated at the Zoo. Many of the first cars in Cincinnati will be operated at the grounds. Old costumes, goggles, long veils, dusters and touring caps, will be worn by many of the "old boys."

The Cincinnati Automobile Club today is the largest club in the Ohio River Valley, the fifth largest automobile club in the United States, and the sixth largest automobile club in the world. Located on the Mason-Dixon line, the club has always been the contact point between north and south in good roads development and legislation. Largely through the efforts of the Cincinnatians, the Dixie Highway was successfully completed and the Atlantic-Pacific Highway well under way.

STEEL TO CUT COSTS
FOR HOME BUILDER

Innovation in Building Brings
Well Built House Within Reach Of Average Budget.

THAT the man of slender income should be able to build for himself and his family an attractive and substantial home without straining his resources far too close to the limit has for so long been almost beyond the realm of possibility that any development in building construction that will bring about a reduction in the building cost of such homes is a distinct boon to a large proportion of the American people.

Such a development, sponsored by the American Institute of Steel Construction, is now well under way in this country. It is based upon the use of all-steel construction for small dwellings, a use to which steel has been put for a number of years in Great Britain. Not enough all-steel houses have as yet been constructed in this country to permit an accurate estimate of average costs, but the cost of erecting such houses in England is not more than half that of similar dwelling in which the conventional materials are used.

A Typical Steel Dwelling

The house and plan shown here are typical of the steel frame and steel wall houses which are now being built in rapidly increasing numbers in small towns and the suburbs of the large cities throughout the United States. The rooms are all of a comfortable size and so arranged as to conserve the housewife's time and labor.

Admirable closet space is a feature that will appeal to the woman of the house. All of the rooms are well lighted, and the living room, dining room, and the two bedrooms have more than one exposure, insuring plenty of sunlight and cross ventilation. The exterior of the house is treated with a special preparation to resemble stucco.

Aside from the question of economy, the fact that metal construction appreciably decreases the fire hazard is an important consideration for the home builder. Steel houses have already proved their worth. As the number of such houses increases it will be possible to further standardize and make interchangeable the various parts, thus further cutting the costs of construction.

The steel that has made possible our skyscrapers and great bridges promises to make available to the man of small means a home of his own in which he will not be constantly harried by the landlord's demand for more rent or by the spectre of mortgage payments.

ORGAN RECITAL
WAS PLEASING
TO ALL HEARERS

Music Lovers Enjoyed Rare
Treat at First Methodist Episcopal Church.

The organ recital given Wednesday evening, April 28, at the Methodist Episcopal church filled the auditorium to capacity and many were seated on the balcony.

The program consisted of fifteen organ numbers and Mrs. Dolores Maxwell, of Chillicothe, the soloist, rendered two numbers. She is so well known here that an introduction is superfluous. Mrs. Maxwell is popular in her home town as a soloist and as a teacher of voice culture, she is equally popular with lovers of music in this city.

Mrs. Maxwell sang exceptionally well and her rich, sweet voice filled the church with its perfect rhythm. Her rendition of "O Divine Redeemer" by Gounod, and the aria, "He Shall Feed His Flock" from "The Messiah" by Handel, were well rendered. Mrs. Maxwell was in most excellent voice and her rich mezzo contralto, was fitted for the difficult aria that she rendered so perfectly.

The playing of the organist, Sutherland Dwight Smith, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, was an exceptional musical treat. All his numbers were well received. His rendition of "Onward, Christian Soldiers," was a brilliant transcription of Sullivan's great hymn, of the Church Militant, which took the audience by storm. His fine execution of this most popular number was the best ever heard by love of the pipe organ, and was a true test of the performers art and the organ's power as a musical instrument.

Between the first and second portions of the program Mr. Smith gave a short history of the pipe organ. He traced its history back to the fourteenth century and told how it was played in days gone by in England. His talk was amusing and interesting.

This is the second organ purchased for the new church and was built by the Estey Organ company, of Brattleboro, Vermont, at a cost of $6,000. It is known as a two manual organ with pedals.

The organ contains 950 pipes with 15 stops, and 10 couplers, four pedal movements and 15 mechanical accessories.

It is one of the largest organs of its kind in this section of southern Ohio. In the place where the old console was located is a new grill and bookcase.

Miss Anna Schleyer, of this city, is the organist, who will play the instrument.

The purchasing committee was headed by Oscar Howard, as chairman ably assisted by Mrs. Rebecca Orr, Mrs. Rae R. Bales, Miss Estella Grimes, Harley B. Colwell, Dr. R. F. Lilly and Dr. B. R. Bales.

ARTISTIC TREASURE
COMES TO AMERICA

Emigration of the Gutenberg Mazarin Bible, the first printed book, to America has made the Americans realize how poor they are. For centuries the famous treasure was exhibited in a special case in the Melk Benedict cloister in the Wachau hills. War impoverished the monks so that it became necessary to part with the Bible. News of the sale was kept quiet for a time in order to avoid protest. Nevertheless the state obtained its sales tax percentage. The Melk "Stift" still has a valuable library, containing more than 7,000 volumes and manuscripts. One manuscript was written by St. Bede in 753. In the library are handwritten prayer books that once belonged to Emperor Albrecht II and Queen Beatrice of Hungary. Two other Gutenberg Bibles are in Austria, one in the national library, the other in the St. Paul cloister. The Gutenberg Bible was printed between 1450 and 1455. The capitals, border letters and ornamentations were illuminated by hand. Two hundred originals were made. Of these forty-one are known to exist today, but most of them are incomplete. Thirty of the originals were printed on parchment. Six are now in the United States.

Earliest Street Lighting

Street lighting began in 1414 when a city ordinance in London required every house and store owner on certain streets to hang out at least one horn-sided lantern at sunset. Paris, in 1568, led the world in municipal street lighting when it installed tall vases at important street corners in which pitch was burned each night with flickering, sooty results. These various crude outdoor lighting methods strove ineffectually for more than 450 years to achieve what the electric carbon and filament lamps have done in the last 40 years.

AMUSEMENTS

The Marshall Neilan of the old days of "Dinty" "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," and "Minnie" is back.

His latest picture "Mike" which he made for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is playing at the Met theater, and in it Neilan again reverts to the type of picture that made him famous as a director. His famous sense of humor, his Irish wit, sprinkled with a generous supply of heart interest, are all in evidence, proving that with this type of picture Neilan never has been and will not soon be surpassed.

The entire story covers a period of only two days in the lives of an old section hand, his three young children, his eldest daughter, Mike, her sweetheart and the inhabitants of the little desert town in which they live. With these characters, Neilan has made a picture that for sheer humor and for thrills challenges any ever produced. In fact, when the audience is not doubled up with laughter, it is gripping its individual theater chairs with suspense.

Charlie Murray, that lovable old character actor, plays "Clancy," the father of Mike, and is as Irish as his name. Never has he appeared to such advantage. With Murray is one other noted comedian, Ford Sterling, as "Schultz." Both contribute to the general fun of the picture, playing their roles in all seriousness, thus making them doubly funny.

Neilan introduces a new find as Mike in the person of the piquant Sally O'Neill. She exhibits a rare beauty and an individuality that will doubtless carry her far. William Haines plays opposite her as "Harlan" in his usual capable manner.

Other members of the cast that deserve special mention are Ned Sparks, Muriel Frances Dana, Frankie Darro, Junior Cogan, Wilfred Lucas and Sam DeGrasse.

Take a look at the program and you know it's good. Be at the Parish house, West Mound street, Friday at 8 p. m. 29april22.

SAW-KNIFE OF 1500 B. C.
UNEARTHED IN ENGLAND

Implement Is Found in Derbyshire
With Skeleton of Man of Early Bronze Age.

London.—The skeleton of an early Bronze age man, period between 1500 and 200 B. C., with flint tools permitting scientific classification of its antiquity, has been discovered in the Peak district of Derbyshire, England.

This discovery was made by W. Allan Milton of the British Archeological society, and F. A. Holmes fellow of the Royal Geographical society, during excavations among the tumuli in the Buxton neighborhood, and scientists regard it a confirmation of earlier finds indicating the presence of prehistoric man in this district.

The skeleton was that of a man five feet seven inches in height, and conforms to the peculiarities of other known specimens of human races at that period. Buried with the skeleton were some ancient flint tools, one a saw-knife three inches long and three-quarter-inch wide, which experienced archeologists regard as the best specimen of its kind yet found in Derbyshire. One side of this implement is pointed like a knife, and the other has 12 perfect serrations. The saw evidently was used to cut through the flesh of animals and the knife to pare off the skin.

As some tumuli in the neighborhood have been known to contain 18 interments, Milton and Holmes are continuing their search, and are in hopes of unearthing pottery urns as the calcined bones of the dead were buried in the Bronze age. The searchers have also found two Roman pottery eating vessels and a drinking cup unearthed at Sylvan Cliff, Buxton. The vessels are broken, but can easily be pieced together, and are pronounced fine specimens of Roman work.

Humorous Turn Given to American Greeting

The following story was told in a statement prepared by the Associated Press to be broadcast from various radio stations throughout the country: "When the late President Roosevelt was coming out of Africa, after his famous hunting trip, he was given a reception by the American colony at Khartum, where the Associated Press was represented by a newly engaged English newspaperman. He was instructed to report the reception. It seems that when Mr. Roosevelt arrived the Americans greeted him with the then popular American cry: 'What's the matter with Teddy? He's all right.' This was music to the ears of the colonel, but it was all Greek to the English correspondent. However, he determined to report the incident, but in good king's English. Accordingly he cabled the Associated Press as follows: 'As Colonel Roosevelt approached, the members of the American colony, as with one accord, lifted their hats and exclaimed: "Is there anything wrong with Colonel Roosevelt? No, he is in good health!"'—Pathfinder Mag.

Early Greenland Settlers

Remains of old churches and graveyards belonging to the Norsemen settlers of the Tenth century have been found in Greenland by a Danish expedition. The colony became lost about 1400, when intercourse with Europe ceased.

HUSBAND ARRESTED

For Wife Beating—Woman In Hospital As Result of Her Injuries.

Columbus, April 27.—(UP.)—Mrs. Margaret Lowe, of near London, O., was in a critical condition here today from a horse-whipping said to have been administered by her husband, on April 9.

Mrs. Lowe was brought to the hospital when physicians at London dispaired of her life. Lowe is held at London on charges of assault with intent to kill. He has been denied bond.

Dr. J. F. Baldwin who examined Mrs. Lowe, said she is suffering from deep bruises and lacerations. She has been unconscious and delirious and only has a bare chance of recovery, he said.

Prosecuting Attorney H. H. Crabbe, of Madison county, filed charges against Lowe after hospital authorities told him that on two occasions when the stricken woman regained consciousness, she whispered her husband had attacked her with a buggy whip and his fist.

Lowe denied the charge when placed under arrest.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Beefsteak Pie.

Cut two and a half pounds of top sirloin steak into convenient small pieces. Line a buttered, deep dish with good short pastry. Put in the meat with pepper and salt, sprinkle with two table-spoonfuls of onion juice, cut in half a pound of fresh mushrooms, dot thickly with butter, dust with flour and sprinkle with a cupful of good, well seasoned stock. Put on the top crust, leaving a vent in the center and bake in a medium oven until the crust is done. Sometimes, a quarter pound of calf's liver may be boiled and chopped fine and added to the pie. Also a couple of slices of bacon may be placed on top just before the top crust is added.

Swiss Steak.

Take a two-pound piece of top round steak cut thick, and dust it over with pepper and salt, dredge it on both sides with flour, then lay it in a hot frying pan with butter enough to cover the bottom. Cover the steak but turn it frequently until it seems to be cooked through, then turn over it a large cupful of strained tomato juice, a half bud of garlic and a little more pepper, salt and a teaspoonful of sugar. Cover and cook slowly until the gravy begins to be cooked and slightly thickened, then lift to a hot dish and turn the gravy over all. Garnish with baked potatoes and parsley.

COMFORT

It is not merely what you say but what you are thinking that creates your mood, rouses your impulse, inspires your attitude and moulds your soul.

By God's grace (and you must ask him for it) strive to think straight regarding your loving father, who has prepared for you such glorious service as passes man's understanding and who is at this moment helping you to rise through hardship into splendid power.—Frederick G. Budlong.

Art Long, but Doesn't Pay

One French painter who has exhibited for many years at the salons and has acquired considerable reputation recently performed the duty, incumbent on all citizens, of declaring his income for the last year. A few days later he received a polite letter from his tax collector in which the official expressed surprise that a master of such talent did not derive a larger income from his work. The artist's reply was brief and to the point. He wrote: "I am just as surprised as you are."

GOD'S COVENANT WITH NOAH

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 8:20; 9:27. GOLDEN TEXT—I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth.—Gen. 9:13.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Promise of the Rainbow.

JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Promise to Noah.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Story of Noah.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—God's Dealing With Noah.

In order to grasp the meaning of God's covenant with Noah, the whole story of the flood should be clearly in the mind of the teacher and the pupil.

I. The Cause of the Flood (6:1-8). It was apostasy from God. The two types of men we saw in Cain and Abel (the one of proud self-will, the other of humble faith), developed on diverging lines, but as they multiplied they came into contact and in the end they were separated.

II. The Ark the Way of Salvation (6:14-7:24).

Although all flesh had corrupted its way before God, in His mercy provision was made for such as would avail themselves of it. Christ is the ark into which all who enter are eternally saved. As all outside the redemption of Christ shall perish (Mark 16:16; II Thess. 1:8, 9; John 3:18, 19, 36; I Pet. 3:18-22).

Observe in connection with this judgment and provision of salvation:

1. The long-suffering God—He waited 120 years.

2. Noah, a preacher of righteousness (I Pet. 2:5).

God not only waited long, but through Noah sounded forth intelligent warnings.

3. God will not withhold His anger forever. At the appointed time the flood came and everything perished outside of the ark.

III. Beginning Life Upon a New World (Gen. 8:20).

This was a most solemn hour for Noah. With the fresh consciousness of God's hatred and judgment of sin, Noah faced the responsibility of giving shape to the life which was beginning upon the cleansed earth. He was to replenish the earth. Happily Noah began right, for he began with the act of worship.

IV. The Covenant With Noah (8:21; 9:27).

God was well pleased with Noah's act of devotion. Because of this He entered into a covenant with him embracing the following elements:

1. Assurance of the perpetuity of the race (8:21, cf. 9:8-17).

The bow was set in the cloud as a token or guarantee of this.

2. The security of the order of nature (8:22).

We know of the succession of the seasons and the ongoing of the system of nature only because of the guarantee of Him who controls them all.

3. Establishing the privileges and responsibilities of Noah and his descendants in their relation to the earth (9:1-4).

(1) The earth to be replenished (v. 1).

(2) Dominion restored. The dominion which was lost through the fall of man was now restored, but on the ground of fear.

(3) Animal food given.

Heretofore man subsisted on a vegetable diet (Gen. 1:29).

4. Human government established (9:4-6).

The sword of justice was placed in man's hands and man was to be ruled by man. This sword has never been removed (Rom. 13:1-7).

5. The destinies and interrelations of the three great branches of the race fixed (9:18-27).

(1) Cursed be Canaan (v. 25). The descendants of Ham were reduced to the lowest condition of servitude. This was partly fulfilled in the time of Joshua in their being partly exterminated and partly reduced to the lowest form of servitude, and also in the time of Solomon (Josh. 9:23; I Kings 9:20, 21), and it is still in the process of fulfillment in that for the most part Canaan's descendants are the world's servants.

(2) Blessed shall be Shem (v. 26).

This was fulfilled in making the Jewish race the repository of religious truth and ultimately in Christ the promised seed.

(3) Enlargement of Japheth (v. 27). This was fulfilled in making him the progenitor of peoples and multitudes (10:5); also in the civilization which has been brought to the world through him.

Christ and the Resurrection

Let the science of historical investigation be rigorously applied to the resurrection of Jesus. Christianity will not fear the proof. For it has pleased God that this crowning seal put to His Son's life should be sustained and guarded by an amount of proof such as no other fact in ancient history can boast; so that no honest searcher for truth might be left in doubt that Jesus of Nazareth has been declared to be the Son of God with power.—J. Oswald Dykes.

ORGANIZATION OF FOOD CLUB.

Mildred Stoer, leader of the Monroe township Food club called a meeting at the school building on Wednesday, April 21, for the purpose of organizing the club, in which there are ten girls, three in the first year and seven in the second, namely, first year; Mary Downs, Marjorie Arbogast.

Second year; Julia Hosler, Dorothy Porter, Freda McCafferty, Marvane Lane, Charlotte Knapp, Geroldine Dennis and Mary McCafferty.

It was named "The Honey Dew" club and the officers are; President, Dorothy Porter; secretary-treasurer, Julia Hosler; news reporter, Mary McCafferty; cheer leader, Mary Downs.

The next meeting will be at the school building on May 5. We hope this club will be a great success.

Trees "Go to Sleep"
Trees put themselves to sleep for the winter, according to investigations conducted by the Westinghouse Lamp company. These investigations show that the belief that trees are "put to sleep" by the various seasonal changes is inaccurate, as the trees "go to sleep" themselves.

x HARTMAN THEATER. x
x x x x x x x x
"New Brooms," the famous comedy triumph written by Frank Graven and in which he starred for a time, will be the second offering, starting Monday night, April 26, by the Hartman Stock company which Lee M. and Robert F. Boda, who have had charge of the Hartman theater, Columbus, ever since it was built, are presenting this season in association with Ambrose M. Miller, of New York.
This is the first time that the Boda's have ever sponsored their own stock company directly and two cars of scenic and electrical equipment were brought on from New York in order to maintain the high standard of the regular winter season. John Hayden, the director, has five or six productions on Broadway now that he has directed, and it was only after considerable persuasion that he came to Columbus.
"New Brooms" was booked to play the Hartman this past season but it could not be crowded in so this will be the first opportunity patrons here will have of seeing this great comedy.
Critics everywhere have hailed it as the best work of Frank Craven, and the roles will be in the capable hands company. Jean Ford and Donn Cook of the members of the Hartman Stock having just finished a season on tour play the leading roles, both of them with Mrs. Fiske in the all star, "The Rivals." Other members of the company are Georgia Neese, John Lott, William Ingersoll and Gilberta Faust, who made many friends in Columbus last season; Martha Lee Manners, Neil McAfee, Forrest Orr, Elise Bristol and Frank Milan.
Allen Hale's orchestra plays for dancing in the foyer, thirty minutes before the play and during intermissions. As a special afternoon feature the orchestra will play for thirty minutes after each matinee. Matinees and on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Prices range from fifty cents to one dollar at night and twenty-five and fifty cents at the matinees. Season reservation lists are still open.

EXPENSIVE KISS

Detroit, Mich., April 27.—(UP.)—Without protest Stanley Lasky, 18, paid $25 in court here—for an alleged unwanted kiss he admitted bestowing on the alleged bewitchingly pursed lips of Gladys Eckert, 16-year-old candy store clerk.
During the brief hearing Lasky half-heartedly pleaded it was "at least a 50-50 proposition" but the girl's indignant denial "won the day."
"I never saw the impudent thing before in my life" she told the judge.

Sealing Wax Used as Paint

Painting with sealing wax is an interesting innovation. Break the sealing wax into small pieces, place in a pan and melt by holding over a flame. Remove from fire and add enough denatured alcohol to make of the consistency of paint. It can now be used very effectively to decorate toilet articles, household articles and various other things which make suitable gifts. As the sealing wax comes in all of the desired colors it is very adaptable for use in decoration.

MONDAY CLUB WORK OF YEAR IS REVIEWED

Mrs. Ritz, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Allen are to Attend the Springfield Meeting.

Monday night, April 26, which was the last meeting for the year of the Monday club, was a very happy and profitable one.
The work of the year, with Mrs. Ritz as chairman, was reviewed and praised. Reports from Mrs. A. L. Wilder, treasurer; Mrs. Glenn Nickerson, recording secretary; Miss Littleton, corresponding secretary; Miss Yates, chairman of the civics committee, and also the executive report testified to the excellence and the mass of work which had been accomplished.
The music committee, under the capable direction of Mrs. Clark Will, has delighted the club with the splendid musical choruses. The membership has been increased, a new constitution drafted and adopted and much community work carried out.
The social committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Teegardin, gave a most delightful party at the home of Mrs. May, when the district superintendent, Mrs. Schwarz, was the speaker. The history division, Mrs. Howard Jones, leader, delighted the hearers with a lecture by Professor Washburn, of the Ohio State university, while the literature division, Miss Grace Moodie, chairman, with Mrs. Ulm, as interlocutor, and the members as participants, gave the play "Sun-up." A play, "The Husband with a Dumb Wife," was splendidly put on at the Presbyterian church.

After all reports, the program under the direction of Mrs. Stewart opened by the reading of an interesting paper, by Miss Flora Dunlap. Three piano numbers were given by Miss Schleyer in her excellent and characteristic manner. The chorus, Israel, the words by Edgar Allen Poe and melody by Edgar Kelly Stillman, was beautifully rendered. Miss Helen Marion in three solos was never more enthusiastically received. One of the bright spots in the happy evening were the violin numbers by Miss Groce, now a student at the Capital university.
The talent of Miss Groce is well known in Circleville and was never more pleasing than upon this evening.
Mrs. Carl Ritz, president; Mrs. E. F. Anderson, president elect, with Mrs. E. A. Allen as alternate, were appointed delegates to the convention of Women's clubs to be held in Springfield in May.

CHURCH CHOIR TO ENTERTAIN GOOD PROGRAM

Friday evening St. Philip's choir will present an entertainment consisting of an harmonious mixture of music and humor at the parish house. An exceptional array of talent has been mustered and all indications promise a highly entertaining presentation.
The first part of the program will be by Mr. Fred Williams, concert pianist, and Miss Margaret Williams, humorous reader, of Cleveland.
The second part will be a play in one act and many laughs, "The Last Chance."
